Applications: GitHub

Tools: Node, JQuery, Bootstrap

PROJECTS

Dank Reviews | <https://github.com/kharam/Dank-Reviews> | <https://bootcamp-project2-uw.herokuapp.com/>

- Summary: Dank Reviews lets users create and read reviews of memes on reddit. Users can only review memes if they have an account. Once a review is submitted, users can view their reviews on their profile.
- Role: I primarily worked on the Javascript authorization, and implementing the reddit.images NPM package.
- Tools: HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, Bootstrap, Express, MySQL2, Sequelize, Handlebars, BCrypt, dotenv

The Relocator | <https://github.com/MikeColetta/Group-Project-One> | <https://mikecoletta.github.io/Group-Project-One/>

- Summary: The Relocator is an app for users that want to compare two cities. The app then shows their location, cost of living, and weather data. The Relocator also stores previous user searches for later use.
- Role: I primarily worked on the Javascript function to pull the weather from the Open Weather API. I also designed the error modal and managed the GitHub repository.
- Tools: HTML5, CSS, JavaScript, JQuery, W3 CSS, Open Weather API, Leaflet, Numbeo API, Open Street Maps API

Weather Dashboard | <https://github.com/MikeColetta/Weather-Dashboard> | <https://mikecoletta.github.io/Weather-Dashboard/>

- Summary: A weather dashboard app that displays both the current weather and the five day forecast for a searched city.
- Role: Sole author
- Tools: HTML5, CSS, Bootstrap, JavaScript, JQuery, Open Weather API
